

Virtual Clinical Pathologist ( Australia / New Zealand )

Imagine reading cytology cases digitally from the comfort of your own home, utilizing cutting-edge scanning technology. As a Virtual Clinical Pathologist with IDEXX, you'll do just that, all while providing top quality diagnostic services for our veterinary clients across the globe in North America. Join a team of pathologists who are some of the best in their field, and who value collaboration and sharing of ideas. In this role, you will be responsible for examination of clinical pathology specimens in order to provide clients with diagnostic evaluations, as well as any necessary follow-up consultation. A high-level of importance is placed on quality, timeliness, and customer service.

What to expect in this role:

- Meet caseload and turnaround expectations.
- Consult with and assist other pathologists in your time zone as needed to promote collegiality.
- Time may be provided off from routine diagnostic responsibilities to allow the pathologist to engage in other professional activities as approved by management. Such activities should improve the function or professional reputation of IDEXX.
- May be responsible for periodic weekend duty.

What do you need to succeed in this role?

- Bachelor of Veterinary Science (BVSc) or equivalent required.
- Pathology Board Certified - American College of Veterinary Pathology (ACVP) or ECVF preferred.
- Familiarity with current topics and issues in clinical veterinary medicine.
- Ability to type and use dictation equipment.
- Excellent email communication skills required as this will likely be the most common method of client communication
- Participate in the quality control programs.
- A service-oriented attitude.
- Ability to organize and prioritize work.
- Computer skills are required

Physical Demands:

- Extensive sitting and computer use
